We must to believe

The fall of humanity

Hamburg , 09.03.2024, 20:05 Time

USPA NEWS - Kindness, love for fellow beings, concern for the environment. Concern for weather conditions and atmosphere, concern for future generations, concern for falling in love, fear of marriage, inflation, deforestation, melting polar ice caps, global warming, the destruction of many human emotions, witnessing news of war and remaining unaffected!

Normalizing human casualties in power-hungry wars, extensive efforts for human dominance, building a life based on money rather than love or emotions, taking unreasonable pictures everywhere we are traveling or going , unfortunately the places what we were visited, as much as more expensive, our photos will get more likes , We are living for likes of others!
By example we only go to these places for the sake of showcasing expensive locations, and many people cannot go there, and the reason for our visit to that restaurant or beautiful place is not for our self to learn and to enjoy , the reason is to get more likes……
Truly many of us have forgotten what are real enjoyment, what are real loves, what are real responsibilities, what are real kindness, what are life about?

We are all tired of these repetitive words unfortunately, the saddest cliché these days is the decline of humanity. Perhaps the smallest articles can help our emotions, reminding us to be kinder together. We must constantly remind ourselves these days that no one has lived or will live permanently on Earth, and in the same time, in the same hour, and in the same second, maybe only a handful of people today will be alive 100 years from now.

It's very painful that the borders, ideas, thoughts, and lack of education in the minds of some people, who support and empower irrational, dictatorial, and foolish figures like Ali Khamenei in Iran, cause significant separations in terms of love and emotional connections. We have forgotten that we are all human, and peace is the only tranquility for humanity.

If there is no peace, kindness has no meaning. If there is no peace, hope has no meaning. If there is no peace, thinking about the environment has no meaning. If there is no peace, love for our fellow beings has no meaning. If there is no peace, humanity will meaningfully and irreversibly decline.

If there is no peace, borders become tighter and tighter, and people drift further and further apart.

If there is no peace, hunger increases every day, and consequently, the intensity of cruelty and brutality due to extreme poverty escalates every day.

I desire peace..."

"Is it really worth it for the insane and irrational ideology, individuals lacking knowledge and mentally disturbed like Ali Khamenei, who only work towards the destruction of the Earth, ruining the youth, spreading hatred, religious and ideological separations, gender inequality, baseless executions, psychological torture, creating a Middle East in flames, arming uneducated individuals as terrorists like Hamas, Houthis, and Hezbollah? All due to the power-hungry nature of Ali Khamenei, leading to war and destruction, supporting anything that people are against, like ending wars, but Ali Khamenei supports that no war should ever end. Not in Ukraine, not in Israel, and not even in Sudan, which was in a civil war a while ago!

Ali Khamenei has sadism, and his insanity has become so outrageous that world news constantly talks about Khamenei's madness! For example, a reporter announces that Houthi terrorists fired a missile at a commercial ship. But the original reporter forget to talk and and read the news correctly?
- who gave the order for these aggressive and terrorist attacks?
Where does a terrorist group secure missiles?

Who provided this terrorist group with military power and weapons?

Why has the authenticity of the news been taken away from the reporters?

Who is supporting financially and militarily the terrorist group Hamas in a way that they dared to invade the holy land?

Who gave money and authority to the foolish person named Hassan Nasrallah to make Lebanon a constant target of war, causing global concern about another war?

Why have reporters forgotten that all these equipment, authorities, even the statements of these terrorists, originate from one place, Tehran, the home of the insane and foolish criminal named Ali Khamenei, by a highly corrupt terrorist group called IRGC?

Why have we forgotten the authenticity of the news?
Why do we hide the main goal? What are we afraid of?

Will the world conditions improve if we don't mention the name of the world's terrorist father, Ali Khamenei?
Will peace be established if news agencies continue to censor the name of the Islamic Republic of Iran?
Will humanity find a better state?

By not mentioning the name of the Islamic Republic of Iran, the only group that should be held accountable for all these crimes, and whose leader, Ali Khamenei, is a crazy and criminal person, will deforestation, destruction of the Earth, cultural and civilizational destruction be stopped? Will wars be stopped? Will terrorist activities led by Khamenei be halted?
Are the people and citizens who have no connection to politics in countries like Iran, Syria, Lebanon, Yemen, Israel, Iraq, Ukraine, happy today?

Are children in these countries in peace? Has peace been established in these countries?
Why don't we address the root of the problems?

Why don't we see our children slowly moving towards fear and locking themselves in a dark world?
The root of this dark world and the effort to show happiness and wealth, to show off expensive places and take many photos has a root, which is escaping from a wild world.

But why escape?

This is generally more prevalent in the teenagers and new generations than other groups.

Unconscious fatigue and witnessing a merciless world have made us not think about others, only to wear a mask to showcase strength and wealth, manifesting societal and cultural destruction.

This problem needs to be resolved quickly, but the root of this issue lies in wars. How can we expect our children not to seek power when they continuously witness war and the killing of innocent people?

How can we ask our children to be patient and study for the future when we don't care about the environment?
How can we ask our children to be happy when they constantly see news of people in fear of war in schools and surroundings?

How can we ask our children to live a more beautiful life when the focus for most people on Earth is on rising commodity prices and the declining quality of life?

We must find the roots; otherwise, the Earth is heading towards an imminent end—a painful end that is very close. I name this end, if peace is not established on Earth as soon as possible, the End of Humanity.

A terrifying end that even oxygen is tired of humans.
The forests no longer want us.

The oceans reject us.
The sky will be exhausted by us.

Breathing will become harder and harder. This terrifying end can occur if mental and corrupt terrorists like Ali Khamenei continue to exist.

We must remember that the Islamic Republic of Iran's dictatorship regime, led by the terrorist mastermind Khamenei, has seriously enriched uranium.
This is a very frightening matter.

The quickest possible scenario is to destroy the Khamenei regime so that the Earth is not in extreme danger.

The Khamenei regime has proven that it is a severe and ferocious threat.

Have we forgotten the horrifying tunnels of terrorists like Hamas?

Have we forgotten the savage attacks by terrorists on the holy land of Israel?

Have we not paid attention to the fact that Ali Khamenei was the only one who stood behind all these atrocities and showed himself indifferent?

We must not underestimate the magnitude of the insanity and crimes of the Islamic Republic of Iran under the dictatorship of Khamenei.

The regime has enriched uranium under Khamenei's leadership.
This is a terrifying threat.

We must quickly destroy the Khamenei regime so that the Earth is not in severe danger.

The Khamenei regime has demonstrated that it is a dangerous and ferocious threat.

Have we forgotten the horrifying tunnels of terrorists like Hamas?

We always seek light in darkness.

Is being hopeful for a better future and peaceful days without war, a guaranteed peace, enough?

Certainly not.

There's a significant difference between hope and belief.

Unfortunately, many people still don't understand the distinction between having faith and being hopeful.

Being hopeful for a good and healthy future, free from dictatorship, is not possible and won't happen.

The key to a good and healthy world is one word: belief.

We must believe that unity, equality, and a world in peace and respect for others are the principles of tranquility and progress.

Believing that fundamental issues cannot be changed with mere hopefulness or worries is essential.

It requires believing in solving problems, setting goals, employing knowledgeable individuals, conducting research, and reaching a fundamental agreement on a global scale.
This agreement should consider all aspects of the planet—forests, animals, weather conditions, water, respecting animal rights, and sustainable use of solar energy.

Believing in science can help reduce the problems on our planet.

Regrettably, until today, we haven't been good residents for the Earth. We were merely hopefuls, and every time the Earth moved towards progress, destructive figures like Ali Khamenei suppressed our hopes. Unfortunately, he's an unworthy and ignorant dictator who has ascended to power in a country rich in civilization, culture, and wealth, in a geographically vital location—one of the richest countries globally.
He governs over people who have no connection to the Islamic dictatorship regime, and in the recent Iranian parliamentary elections held a few days ago, we saw that only 8% of the people went to the polls. Even from this 8%, blank and invalid votes were prioritized, and the true winner wasn't the result of the voting.
Yet, Ali Khamenei, with audacity, easily claims that 40% of the people participated in the elections. It's true that the information environment under Khamenei is flawed, and he has tightly restricted the credible international news agencies from reporting on Iran.

Still, even with these limitations, Khamenei forgets that the internet exists, and the brave people of Iran, well-aware of his deceitful nature, share news and images continuously, showing their distrust of his claims.

Despite Khamenei's attempt to control information, the courageous people of Iran, acting as the best reporters, revealed that no one supports the election, and the ballots are essentially a show for the dictatorship.

Khamenei learned to be lier but it's enough.

Believing in the fall of Khamenei is the best opportunity to capture the images of individuals participating in this show for future accountability when Iran achieves freedom and justice.

For this reason they become like a individual Journalist in election day to get photos from any one who are voting.
Freedom seekers are saying they are never going to vote in any Islamic Republic Elections, not because they not believe Khamenei, but because they need regime change, with sanctioning the election the world can see their request of regime change in Iran.

The people of Iran have genuinely believed that Khamenei is on the brink of collapse, and their only demand is some small international supports.

For example, not recognizing the Islamic Republic by all major countries worldwide, severing financial relationships, and closing all consulates and embassies of the Islamic Republic in important countries around the world is a serious move by Iranians to achieve freedom.

This situation needs the belief of all major governments that the Iranian regime has no power, and by merely hearing the voice of the Iranian people, they can be easily removed from power. Only a solid belief in the incapacity of the Iranian regime is required to open their path to freedom."

To have a better world, we must believe in unity and solidarity, setting aside any type of thinking or ideology to secure the Earth for future generations.

It's crucial to acknowledge that solutions are available, but it's important to demand their implementation.

What are the solutions?

For instance, regarding the Islamic Republic led by Khamenei, we must believe:

1. All terrorist groups like Hezbollah, Hamas, and the Houthis are Khamenei's children, and he is their father—a dictator and a madman. We should believe that these groups can be eradicated by going after their father in Tehran. Khamenei is the main culprit, and with the help of the Iranian people and international support, he can be easily eliminated.

2. International committees should unite quickly and seriously with the best environmental experts to prevent fossil fuel usage, reduce plastic consumption, increase recycling, and promote a shift towards healthier diets without harming animals and fish. People need to believe that they can nourish themselves without causing harm to any living beings.

3. We should believe that advancements in technology should address the root causes of diseases like cancer and HIV. It's perplexing that we've reached Mars and the moon, yet many still suffer and die from diseases. Believing in global cooperation and scientific advancements is essential.

Believing in the need for action is crucial. It's strange that we see advancements in electric cars, but infrastructure for charging isn't universally available.

Some countries are making progress, while others are still unfamiliar with electric vehicles.

This disarray originates from individuals driven by greed and opportunism, like Seyyed Ali Khamenei, who even banned the entry of COVID-19 vaccines into Iran at the peak of the pandemic.

Therefore, as long as individuals like Ali Khamenei, who are delusional and power-hungry, are in control, the Earth will not find peace. The belief that these lunatics must be removed from positions of power should be the primary concern for every human.

All these issues come back to our human essence, and we must believe that addressing them is not just a slogan but a path to humanity's salvation.

It is the duty of all humans to experience a secure world free from worries and diseases for ourselves, future generations, animals, forests, and seas.

believe we can and we will gift good earth to next's generation believe we will make a positive impact on the future for all the children of the Earth. Thank you for your valuable time in reading this article. All the opinions expressed are my wishes as the author of this article, and I have no intention of disrespecting any companies or countries.

My belief is in peace, unity, and having good days for the Earth, its people, animals, forests, and seas.
